Ethos Statement of the Glebe National School

The Glebe National School is a Church of Ireland School committed to an inclusive ethos, where all children are equally valued and respected in a supportive school climate. Varied cultural backgrounds are nurtured and valued. It is the belief of the school that its ethos is a critical factor in establishing and maintaining strong moral values and high standards of behaviour. There are strong links with the local parish church and through the school, moral values consistent with the Christian faith are promoted and nurtured.
